

Christian M. Stiefmueller, Senior Adviser, Policy Research & Analysis, Finance Watch:

Christian M. Stiefmueller advises Finance Watch on banking regulation, the digitalisation of financial services, financial supervision and governance. He has authored numerous reports and commentaries on European and international financial-sector regulation and governance and is a regular speaker at relevant conferences, workshops and seminars. As a senior consultant on financial-sector regulation he works regularly with European institutions and international organisations and provides expert advice to member-state legislators and competent authorities in other European countries. He is the Chairman of the Banking Stakeholder Group of the European Banking Authority (EBA) and a member of the Securities and Markets Stakeholders Group of the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA).

Previously a senior investment banker, Christian has more than 20 years' first-hand experience in the financial industry and worked for major global banks advising corporate clients and financial investors on mergers, acquisitions and capital markets transactions. He also managed two London-based corporate finance advisory firms serving clients in the technology and telecom sectors. He holds graduate degrees in Law and Applied Languages from the University of Innsbruck and an M.B.A degree from the University of California (Berkeley).