Guidelines on the Borrowers statistics

(Form 10205)

I Scope of the survey

The survey provides a quarterly breakdown of loans outstanding to domestic enterprises and households (including non-profit institutions) classified by group of borrowers. The total value of the loans listed (Tables V1 and V3, line 400) must equal the total value of loans to domestic enterprises and households in Annex B1 of the monthly balance sheet statistics (line 100). The same applies to the three subsectors “Enterprises and self-employed persons”, “Employees and other persons”, “Non-profit institutions”. In addition, housing loans and mortgage loans of households, as well as instalment loans, other loans and debit balances (on payroll, salary, pension and retirement accounts) of employees and other individuals in particular must be reconciled with Annex B4 of the monthly balance sheet statistics. As such, credit institutions’ reports are subject to the guidelines applicable to the monthly balance sheet statistics.

II Borrowers

Enterprises and self-employed persons (including sole proprietors)<sup>1</sup> (Tables V1 and V3, line 100)

These comprise all private and public enterprises which, as market producers pursuant to the definition of ESA 2010, produce market goods and services and sell these for a consideration that usually generates surpluses. These enterprises include capital companies, commercial partnerships, cooperative associations and partnerships as well as business associations, chambers of industry and commerce, industrial foundations and legal persons governed by public law such as Berliner Wasserbetriebe AöR.

This category also includes credit institutions not regarded as MFIs, other financial intermediaries, private and public insurance corporations (including pension funds and supplementary pension funds for government employees). However, it excludes social security funds, domestic branches of foreign enterprises and domestic representative offices of foreign banks.

Sole proprietorships,<sup>2</sup> other persons conducting (small) businesses, the self-employed and farmers should also be recorded here.

These enterprises include institutions and establishments of central, state and local government and social security funds, such as state corporations, special-purpose associations and municipality-owned enterprises, and thus to the group of market producers if their self-financing level amount to at least 50% and sales with their sponsors are less than 80%<sup>3</sup>. Where this is not the case, these enterprises are to be classified as non-market producers or public extra budget entities, and are therefore not to be taken into account in the borrowers statistics. Extra budget entities can be found in the list of extra budget entities prepared by the Federal Statistical Office, which is updated annually.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>3</sup> The Federal Statistical Office publishes a full list of other public funds, institutions and enterprises (OPFIEs) which, being market producers, are to be classified as enterprises under the following link: <http://www.destatis.de> > Zahlen & Fakten > Gesellschaft & Staat > Öffentliche

These enterprises also include organisations of non-profit institutions provided that these are market producers, that is to say that 50% of costs are covered by revenue. Where this is not the case, these facilities are also to be classified as non-market producers and allocated directly to their sponsors, ie non-profit institutions.

Where an individual's income is derived chiefly from his assets, such as rentiers and individuals of private means, he is classified as a manager of his own assets under "Asset management for enterprises and households" in lines 180 (Services including self-employment) and 185 (Information and communication; research and development; membership organisations; publishing activities; other business activities).

See pages 141 ff of the Annex to the Guidelines on the borrowers statistics for more information on classifying loans to enterprises and self-employed persons (including sole proprietors) by economic activity in Tables V1 and V3, lines 110 to 180 as well as by manufacturing sector and service category in Tables V2 and V4, lines 131 to 139, 171 and Tables VA and VB, lines 181 to 188.

Loans to self-employed persons and sole proprietors (Tables V2 and V4, line 105)

In addition to their inclusion in lines 110 to 180 of Tables V1 and V3, loans to self-employed persons and sole proprietors should be reported separately here.

Craft businesses (Tables V2 and V4, line 108)

In addition to their inclusion in lines 110 to 180 of Tables V1 and V3, loans to craft businesses should be reported separately here.

Craft businesses include all enterprises and self-employed persons, irrespective of the sector in which they operate, whose activity is recorded in the "Handwerksrolle" register<sup>2</sup> or in a directory listing proprietors of craft businesses not requiring a licence maintained by the relevant Chamber of Crafts (Handwerkskammer).<sup>3</sup> This category therefore encompasses craft businesses active in the manufacturing, construction and services sectors alike. In addition, craft businesses which are registered as described above should be recorded here even if the craft activity is subordinate to other trade or agricultural operations.

Employees and other persons (Tables V1 and V3, line 200)

The category “employees” comprises wage and salary earners (including the unemployed), civil servants, pensioners and retired individuals. “Other persons” includes persons engaged in house- and family work, infants, schoolchildren, students, persons undergoing training, persons not indicating their occupation.

Non-profit institutions (Tables V1 and V3, line 300)

These include churches and charitable associations including their foundations, other private foundations (other than industrial foundations), societies not regarded as business organisations, trade unions, political parties and other private organisations. Church pre-primary education institutions, schools, social facilities and other church and charitable associations (including family and youth facilities, advisory centres) whose self-financing level does not exceed 50% are to be allocated directly to non-profit institutions and are not to be included in the sectors in which they operate. The institutions of associations are treated in the same manner: these are allocated here where their revenue does not cover 50% of the costs. These can include canteens and accommodation, libraries, towing and recovery services and research facilities (such as the “Fraunhofer-Gesellschaft” and the “Max Planck Gesellschaft”) operated by the association for its members.

For business organisations (including industrial foundations), see line 100

III Borrowing classification

Loans and advances (Tables V1/V2, VA, columns 01 and 02) and loans and advances – excluding mortgage loans - (Tables V3/V4, VB, column 05)

As well as all loans not secured by mortgages, this category also includes borrowing not used to finance property or ships, such as short-term operating loans, consumer loans and loan-financed purchases of securities, which is nevertheless secured (wholly or in part) by a mortgage.

Bill-based loans (Tables V1/V2, VA, columns 03 and 04)

As recorded in the monthly balance statistics in Annex B1, column 05, bill-based loans are to be classified by borrower in column 03, generally according to the customers for whom the bills have been discounted (liability ledger on bills). For lending against bills purchased without recourse, the drawee is deemed to be the borrower. In the case of promissory notes purchased without recourse, the drawer is deemed to be the borrower.

Bill-based loans are also to be recorded in Tables V1/V2, column 04, classified by sector according to the drawee (see Annex B1, column 06).

Banking statistics guidelines
July 2024

Trust loans (Tables V3/V4, VB, column 06)

Trust loans should no longer be recorded.

Mortgage loans (total) (Tables V3/V4, VB, column 07)

Mortgage loans are to be reported here.

Where a loan meets the definition of a mortgage loan, it is to be recorded as such for the purposes of the borrowers statistics. These loans are not additionally recognised under “Loans and advances of over 5 years (excluding mortgage loans)”; for domestic employees and other persons, these loans are therefore not recorded according to their repayments terms (instalment and non-instalment loan).

For the definition of mortgage loans, instalment loans, other loans, see “General guidelines”, “III General reporting rules and other explanatory notes”; see monthly balance sheet statistics, B4.

Mortgage loans secured by residential real estate (Tables V3/V4, VB, column 08)

The housing mortgage loans included in column 07 (financing the acquisition of real estate as well as construction and renovations) should be shown here.

Housing loans (Tables V2 and V4, lines 106 and 107; Tables V1 and V3, line 230; Tables V2 and V4, line 309)

Loans to

enterprises and economically independent households	(Tables V1 and V3, line 100)
employees and other households	(Tables V1 and V3, line 200)
non-profit institutions	(Tables V1 and V3, line 300)

for the construction, repair & renovation and the purchase of houses and flats (intended for personal use, resale or letting) should be shown against the respective category of borrowers in their capacity as owner. Restructuring of housing loans should also be recorded.

For housing loans, mortgage loans, see “General guidelines”, “III General reporting rules and other explanatory notes”; see monthly balance sheet statistics, B4.

Instalment loans (excluding housing loans) (Tables V1 and V3, line 210)

Instalment loans that are not mortgage loans are to be recorded here.

For instalment loans, mortgage loans, see “General guidelines”, “III General reporting rules and other explanatory notes”; see monthly balance sheet statistics, B4.

Other loans (excluding housing loans) (Tables V1 and V3, line 220)

Other loans that are not mortgage loans are to be recorded here.

For other loans, mortgage loans, see "General guidelines", "III General reporting rules and other explanatory notes"; see monthly balance sheet statistics, B4.

Debit balances of wage and salary accounts and pension accounts (Table V2, line 221)

Debit balances on the accounts of wage-earners, salaried employees, civil servants, pensioners and retired individuals, which are included in the category other loans to employees and other persons, should be shown here.

For debit balances on payroll, salary, pension and retirement accounts, see "General guidelines", "III General reporting rules and other explanatory notes"; see monthly balance sheet statistics, B4.

IV Changes in loans and advances resulting from valuation adjustments in the reporting period

Forms V1B, V2B, V3B, V4B, VAB and VBB should be used to record details of additions or reductions of loans and advances arising from valuation adjustments in the reporting period. Reductions should be denoted by a negative sign.

Valuation adjustments only encompass changes caused by individual value adjustments and any write-downs/write-ups of non-performing debt. Value adjustments on account of exchange rate fluctuations should not be included.

Valuation adjustments should only be shown for the quarter in which the adjustment to the reported stock figures was made. If no valuation adjustments were made during the reporting period, the form "Changes in loans and advances resulting from valuation adjustments in the reporting period" can be omitted. "Nil returns" are not required.

Note: Supplementary report forms for valuation adjustments don't imply that banks must now, contrary to their usual valuation methods, carry out revaluations on a regular basis.

In the borrowers statistics, the change to loans and advances resulting from valuation adjustments in the reporting period corresponds to the total of valuation adjustments of the three reporting months in the monthly balance sheet statistics (eg the values of the borrowers statistics at the end of March are reconciled with the months of January, February and March of the monthly balance sheet statistics).

Annex to the Guidelines on the borrowers statistics***

Notes on the classification of domestic enterprises and self-employed persons (including sole proprietors) by sector

Classification by sector is applied to all business entities – ie enterprises and self-employed persons (including sole proprietors) which predominantly produce goods and services for the market (market producers). Institutions and establishments of central, state and local government, social security funds and non-profit institutions are also to be included here if they are market producers.<sup>1</sup>

As is the case with loans to “Public administration”, “Defence” and “Compulsory social security”, loans to public non-market producers<sup>2</sup> are not recorded in the borrowers statistics.

Loans to non-market producers of non-profit institutions are allocated directly to their sponsors, non-profit institutions in line 300; these are not recorded in the corresponding lines of the list of sectors in accordance with their business activities.

Entities active in more than one economic sector have to be classified on the basis of the sector in which they are most active. Where enterprises are listed in the company registers of the customer classification (see the Excel table “Company registers” published on the Bundesbank website: www.bundesbank.de > Service > Reporting systems > Banking statistics > Customer classification – available in German only), that entry should be used to determine their classification.

Entities that repair, maintain or install industrial products are to be recorded in line 135, the repair and maintenance of motor vehicles in line 150 and the repair of computing machinery and personal and household goods in line 136.

Agriculture, forestry, fishing and aquaculture (line 110)

Farms and forestry establishments of public authorities, and agricultural authorities and offices are not to be included.

The relevant sector code is given after the sector name (see also Deutsche Bundesbank, Special Statistical Publication 2, Banking statistics, Customer classification, July 2024).

<sup>1</sup> Enterprises are market producers if the surpluses generated cover at least 50% of the production costs; if this is not the case, the enterprises are non-market producers. Public non-market producers are non-profit institutions are to be allocated directly to their sponsors and are not to the sectors in which they operate. Enterprises are also classified as non-market producers if more than 80% of sales are generated from business with the sponsors.

<sup>1</sup> In divergence from the classification of economic activities used by the Federal Statistical Office (WZ 2008), this combined item includes those sections of the WZ 2008 division Financial intermediation (Erbringung von Finanz- und Versicherungsdienstleistungen) which are not attributed to the sector "Banks (MFIs)" for the purposes of the banking statistics; it forms part of the sectoral classification scheme.

<sup>2</sup> MFIs are all institutions which receive deposits and/or close substitutes for deposits (for example, by issuing securities) from the public and, for their own account, grant credit (including investment in securities). This also includes building and loan associations and money market funds.

This includes leasing corporations based in Germany that provide financial lease services within the meaning of section 1 (1a) sentence 2 number 10 of the German Banking Act (Kreditwesengesetz) and are thus by law financial services institutions.<sup>1</sup> The legal provisions of section 1 (1a) sentence 2 number 10 of the German Banking Act (Kreditwesengesetz) are consistent with the key finance leasing definitions of ESA 2010: the lessee is generally the party that finances and amortises the asset; in economic terms, the lessor grants the lessee a loan in the amount of the cost of the leased item, with the financing function being paramount.

Leasing SPEs are likewise to be recorded here. These entities operate only for a single leased asset, do not make their own business policy decisions and are managed by financial leasing corporations on a regular basis. Due to their lack of decision-making autonomy, leasing SPEs are to be allocated to the sector of their controlling body (in this case, financial leasing corporations) in accordance with ESA 2010.
