Abstract

We describe the research dataset “Statistics on international financial and capital transactions (SIFCT)” using a structured metadata schema.¹⁾ This document consists of three sections. In the first section, we describe the general properties of the dataset as a whole, such as its scope and coverage and the methods of data collection and data appraisal. The second section looks at the variable level, providing an overview of the variables and tables with details on each variable. The third section looks at the value level and provides codelists, i.e. information on the meaning of values for categorical variables.

Keywords: financial account, capital account, investment income, balance of payments, residents, non-residents

Dataset abstract

The research dataset “Statistics on international financial and capital transactions (SIFCT)” provides part of the microdata collected by the Deutsche Bundesbank for the compilation of the financial account, capital account and investment income of the German balance of payments statistics.²⁾ This research dataset provides detailed information on capital transfers receivable and payable between residents and nonresidents, the acquisition and disposal of nonproduced, nonfinancial assets as well as transactions involving financial assets and liabilities and investment income. It is supplemented by the country of the counterparty and the sector classification of the resident firm.³⁾ The research data are available from 2001 as a panel dataset with a monthly frequency.

1.2 Dataset scope and coverage

Legal framework

- Section 11(2) of the Foreign Trade and Payments Act (Außenwirtschaftsgesetz/AWG)
- Section 64 and section 67 et seq of the Foreign Trade and Payments Regulation (Außenwirtschaftsverordnung/AWV)
- The Act on Statistics for Federal Purposes (BStatG), particularly the provisions of section 9, 15 and 16, also applies
- Guideline (EU) 2018/1151 of the EUROPEAN CENTRAL BANK

² Due to high volatility and other reasons data on short-term claims and liabilities arising from financial transactions and from short and longer-term claims and liabilities arising from goods and services transactions (trade credits) are derived from the foreign status of non-banks (AUSTANB) and the external positions of banks (AUSTA), respectively.

³ Transactions in produced assets such as machinery and equipment are covered by the foreign trade statistics compiled by the German Federal Statistical Office.

Unit of analysis

Each line in the dataset corresponds to the total amount of the receipts of a certain type of capital or financial transaction of a certain resident vis-à-vis a certain country in a certain month and the total amount of the expenditure, respectively.

Time periods

01/2001 until 12/2021

Geographic coverage

Germany, Rest of the world (individual countries)

Universe

All German residents have to report the capital transactions, financial transactions, and investment income exceeding €12,500 or the equivalent value in another currency that they receive from non-residents (receipts, incoming payments) or make to non-residents (expenditure, outgoing payments).⁴⁾ The reporting threshold of €12,500 does not apply to a single transaction but to the total amount per combination of month, country, transaction code and direction. There is no reporting threshold for monetary financial institutions (MFIs) for income payments on securities vis-à-vis non-residents.

Payments of non-banks in connection with short-term loans, short- and long-term trade loans and deposits (agreed maturity or period of notice up to and including 12 months) are not part of the SIFCT. The corresponding data can be calculated from the foreign status of non-banks as first differences of stocks. Interest generated by such transactions must be reported.

Monetary financial institutions are exempt from the reporting requirements covering the granting and repayment of loans to non-residents, the establishment and repayment of credit balances held at non-resident banks and the assignment of claims vis-à-vis non-residents (external claims independent of their maturity). The corresponding data can be calculated from the external positions of banks (MFIs). These reporting exemptions do not apply to transactions (including any assignment of claims) in conjunction with long-term borrower's note loans, registered debt instruments and similar non-marketable securities.

There is also no reporting if residents forward payments to non-residents. If firms undertake mutual transactions and then offset payments, they have to report the values of individual transactions rather than netted values payable to the trading partner. Taxes are also included in the reported transaction values. Transactions are to be reported when they occur (accrual accounting), rather than when payments are made.

Historical changes

⁴ Transactions in produced assets such as machinery and equipment are covered by the foreign trade statistics compiled by the German Federal Statistical Office.

September 2013

A new coding list of the Deutsche Bundesbank for balance of payments (Annex LV to the Foreign Trade and Payments Regulation, AWW) has been in force since 1 September 2013. These codes are based on the recommendations of the sixth version of the IMF's Balance of Payments and the International Investment Position Manual (BPM6). The reporting agents have been able to use the new classification since July 2013. Since September 2013, its usage has been mandatory. However, there was a transition period up to mid-2013 (in some cases until the end of 2013) in which some firms used the old and other firms the new classification. The information for some of the new codes was available for many firms already before 2013 implying an overlap of old and new codes. Since 2014, only the new codes may be used. Emission rights have been moved from services transactions to the capital account, for example. The conversion table showing newly introduced codes and corresponding old codes included in the SIFCT can be found in the Bundesbank's Special Statistical Publication 7 (2013). This information is included in the variable details sections 2.7 to 2.10. Changes due to conversion from BPM5 to BPM6 are described in more detail in an article in the Bundesbank's June 2014 Monthly Report entitled "Changes in the methodology and classifications of the balance of payments and the internal investment position." The impact of the changes on the major aggregates is expected to be rather small. However, within the individual accounts the methodological changes in the balance of payments are likely to have a greater impact.

August 2020

Further sector breakdown of short-term loans and deposits and long-term loans and deposits (codes 275, 261, 263, and 276) was introduced after a first split in September 2009: "MFIs," "MMFs," "General government," "Non-MMF investment funds," "Insurance corporations and pension funds," "Other financial institutions," "Non-financial corporations," and "Households and NPISHs."

April 2021

Change of identifier for MFIs. Previously, the original identifier of the MFIs in the database underlying the SIFCT has been anonymized by using the identifier of the banking statistics. To be in line with the "Microdatabase Direct Investment (MiDi)" and with the tables of the Record Linkage, SIFCT now uses the identifier of the MiDi and its name has been changed to AWMUS_CD.

December 2021

The previous identifier AWMUSID has been included alongside AWMUS_CD to facilitate the match MFIs in the SIFCT with other MFI data. For non-MFIs AWMUSID and AWMUS_CD coincide.

1.3 Data collection

Data collection mode

- Up to September 2013: on paper or electronic submission

– September 2013 up to present: electronic submission

Data collectors

Collection frequency

Monthly

Sampling

Complete inventory above the reporting threshold €12,500 with the exception of private persons and the Deutsche Bundesbank. The dataset also includes transactions below the legal reporting threshold of €12,500 which are reported on a voluntary basis.

Response rate

Comparing transaction data on returns on foreign direct investment with reports on stocks of direct investments held by residents abroad and stocks of direct investments held by non-residents in Germany shows that some transactions are missing. Quite likely this is the case for other transactions, too.

Supervision

Pursuant to section 23 of the Foreign Trade and Payments Act (Außenwirtschaftsgesetz/AWG), the Bundesbank may request information for the purpose of monitoring compliance with this Act and with the regulations and orders issued in connection with this Act, as well as with legislation introduced by the Council or the Commission of the European Communities under foreign trade and payments law. To this end, it may also perform audits on parties required to report. Within the framework of their audits, the four Service Centres for External Sector Audits and Reporting Queries monitor compliance with the relevant external reporting regulations. Parties who fail to report are subject to penalty payments.

1.4 Aggregates

The Deutsche Bundesbank supplements the collected data with estimates. This particularly applies to transactions below the reporting threshold, transactions undertaken by individuals and for some categories for which the required methodology cannot be reported. As the research micro dataset does not include estimates and collective reports, and as some adjustments are made in calculating published figures, it is not possible to replicate these aggregates through the mere addition of transactions values in the micro data. The balance of payments does not only use the micro-data from the SIFCT but also micro-data from the foreign status of non-banks and from the external positions of banks.

1.5 Data appraisal

Quality checks

All reports above the threshold are checked for correctness by the Deutsche Bundesbank. Correctness is assessed by various plausibility checks. However, the cross-checking with reports on stocks of direct investments held by residents abroad and stocks of direct investments held by non-residents in Germany is incomplete. If the correctness is in question, the reporter is contacted and asked for more information. If the reported data are incorrect, the reporter has to send a corrected version of the data.

Data editing

In the case of cancellations, the reporting agents have to report the total sum of the initial payment with a minus sign on the same payment side (expenditure or receipts) and for the same month, country and transaction code. In the case of corrections, the transaction must be cancelled and the correct amount has to be reported as a new observation. Corrections may be wrong themselves. If the total of receipts or expenditure for a given country, economic sector, and code is not negative and below a certain threshold, no further action is taken implying that negative values for single reporting agents may still occur.

NACE Rev.2 classification starts 2008. The RDSC has imputed NACE Rev.2 classification for the period before. For firms with a NACE Rev.2 code in 2008, this code is used in the period before. For firms that stopped reporting before 2008, NACE Rev.2 code has been imputed based on NACE Rev.1 code, if available, using the conversion table provided in the appendix.

Update and revisions of the dataset

Normally, the research dataset is annually updated. The update includes the data for the following year and revisions for the four preceding years, which contain corrected reports. During the Covid-19-pandemie the research dataset is updated monthly, but not every month. If the dataset is expanded by one month, the last month is updated, since there is a non-negligible number of delayed reports.

1.6 Data accessibility

Research proposal conditions

A research proposal is checked for feasibility of the research project given the research data, i.e. the suitability of the data to answer the research questions raised by the proposal. The research project must be of public interest, that is without commercial goals.

Institutional access conditions

The researcher must be affiliated with a research institution that clearly has a scientific, noncommercial agenda.

Capital account According to 2008 SNA the capital account in the international accounts shows (a) capital transfers receivable and payable between residents and nonresidents and (b) the acquisition and disposal of nonproduced, nonfinancial assets between residents and nonresidents. The capital account comprises non-recurring unrequited transfers which do not have any direct effect on income or expenditure (eg debt forgiveness).

In economic literature, “capital account” is often used to refer to what is called the financial account since the fifth edition the Balance of Payments Manual and in the SNA. The term “capital account” was also used in the Balance of Payments Manual prior to the fifth edition. The use of the term “capital account” here is designed to be consistent with the SNA, which distinguishes between capital transactions and financial transactions.

The SNA capital account shows capital formation for the full range of produced and nonproduced assets. The corresponding parts of the international accounts show only transactions in nonproduced, nonfinancial assets (natural resources; contracts, leases, and licenses; and marketing assets (and goodwill)). Transactions in produced assets are included in the goods and services account, which does not distinguish whether those goods or services are destined for capital or current purposes.

Financial account According to 2008 SNA the financial account records transactions that involve financial assets and liabilities and that take place between residents and nonresidents. The financial account indicates the functional categories, sectors, instruments, and maturities used for net international financing transactions.

Financial instruments Financial instruments consist of the full range of financial contracts made between institutional units. Financial instruments may give rise to financial claims or not. Monetary and financial statistics primarily use the instruments classification.

Functional categories The functional categories are the primary classification used for each of financial transactions, positions, and income in the international accounts.⁵⁾ Five functional categories of investment are distinguished in the international accounts: (a) direct investment, (b) portfolio investment, (c) financial derivatives (other than reserves) and employee stock options, (d) other investment, and (e) reserve assets.

The functional categories are built on the classification of financial assets and liabilities discussed according to instruments, but with an additional dimension that takes into account some aspects of the relationship between the parties and the motivation for investment. The functional categories are designed to facilitate analysis by distinguishing categories that exhibit different economic motivations and patterns of behavior.

While linked to the classification of financial assets and liabilities, the functional categories highlight features that are particularly relevant for understanding cross-border financial flows and positions. For example, a loan can appear under direct investment or other investment, but the different nature of the relationship between the parties in these two cases has analytical significance because the risks and motivations behind the transaction may be different.

A different relationship exists between the counterparties for portfolio investors compared with direct investors. Direct investment is related to control or a significant degree of influence, and tends to be associated with a lasting relationship. As well as funds, direct investors may supply additional contributions such as know-how, technology, management, and marketing. Furthermore, enterprises in a direct investment relationship are more likely to trade with and finance each other.

In contrast to direct investors, portfolio investors typically have less of a role in the decision making of the enterprise with potentially important implications for future flows and for the volatility of the price and volume of positions. Portfolio investment differs from other investment in that it provides a direct way to access financial markets, and thus it can provide liquidity and flexibility. It is associated with financial markets and with their specialized service providers, such as exchanges, dealers, and regulators. The nature of financial derivatives as instruments through which risk is traded in its own right in financial markets sets them apart from other types of investment. Whereas other instruments may also have risk transfer elements, these other instruments also provide financial or other resources.

Reserve assets are shown separately because they serve a different function and thus are managed in different ways from other assets. Reserve assets include a range of instruments that are shown under other categories when not owned by monetary authorities. As reserve assets, however, they have the distinct motive to meet balance of payments financing needs and undertake market intervention to influence the exchange rate. Since the Deutsche Bundesbank is not part of the research dataset neither are reserve assets.

Resident A natural or legal person is deemed to be a resident of one and only one country when it has a centre of economic interest in the economic territory of that country, irrespective of its nationality.

The residence of individual persons is determined by that of the household to which they belong.

Unincorporated enterprises that are not quasi-corporations are not separate institutional units from their owners and, therefore, have the same residence as their owners.

Corporations and nonprofit institutions normally may be expected to have a center of economic interest in the economy in which they are legally constituted and registered. Corporations may be resident in economies different from their shareholders and subsidiaries may be resident in different economies from their parent corporations.

When a corporation, or unincorporated enterprise, maintains a branch, office, or production site in another territory to engage in a significant amount of production over a long period of time (usually one year or more) but without creating a corporation for the purpose, the branch, office, or site is considered to be a quasi-corporation (i.e., a separate institutional unit) resident in the territory in which it is located.

For entities, such as many SPEs, that have few if any attributes of location, the residence is determined by their place of incorporation.

When a nonresident has ownership of land and buildings, and natural resources other than land, the assets are deemed to be owned by a notional resident institutional unit in the economy of location, even if they do not engage in other economic activities or transactions in the economy. All land, buildings, and natural resources other than land are therefore owned by residents.
